Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 19 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Turning colder from the north.

This Evening and Tonight:
Mild and cloudy for many, though some clear spells are likely in the east. Rain across northern and western Scotland will become heavier and move southeastwards later, followed by clearer, colder weather in the far northwest.

Friday:
A band of rain will continue southeastwards, reaching Wales and the Midlands by evening. Cloudy ahead of this in the south, with brighter, colder and showery weather across the north.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Rain soon clearing the south on Sunday, and after a cold start elsewhere, sunshine and showers, wintry in the north. Less-cold and a little milder Monday and Tuesday, but cloudier.
